

REMARKABLE PHENOMENON.

Aluminum-Colored Splotches Deposited on Painted and Other Surfaces.

PECULIAR ATMOSPHERIC CONDITION
Paint is Silvered and Silverware Blackened in a Single Night.

A singular phenomenon was observed in Earlington last week, its manifestations being particularly noticeable on Wednesday morning with a continuation in lesser degree noticed on Thursday morning. And much marvelous speculation has been indulged first and last, without any scientific reason having as yet been discovered to account for the occurrence. The visible effects of the phenomenon was aluminum colored splotches great and small on houses and other objects throughout the town, except in that part of town well up on the higher ground. It was particularly noticeable on white or very light colored paints, of course, and those whose houses showed the effect feared that they might only be able to overcome the discoloration by repainting. However, it has been discovered that a vigorous application of water and washing powder does take off the metallic lustre and restore white paint to its original fairness. And among the many careful housekeepers of Earlington there has been much scrubbing.

A peculiar and extraordinary condition of the atmosphere prevailed for several days last week. The heat was intense, the air was steaming with moisture, it was muggy, smoky, moist. All the steam that rose from earth seemed to hang over the town and all the smoke that arose from the many locomotives that puffed and puffed in the railroad yards, and that came from outlying sulphur piles and coke works seemed to stack up and to saturate the steaming atmosphere with the byproducts of burning bitumen. If this, as seems most reasonable, is the correct theory, the point of precipitation seems to have been reached on Wednesday night, whether through electrical energy or otherwise is but a guess, and splotches of metallic lustre were spread around with great prodigality. It was to be seen on pavements and elsewhere as well as on painted surfaces, which seemed to prove that there was an actual precipitation. The appearance in places was as though bucketfuls of liquid had been dashed on house, or whatnot. A barber pole which had recently had a corkscrew stripe of white now was sporting a silvery stripe of beautiful metallic sheen. Silverware on many a sideboard and on many a bureau turned black. In some instances servants were questioned as to why they had not kept the silverware polished. One quite young man complained to his mother that his gold-rimmed spectacles had suddenly grown brassy. One of our silver-smiths was the recipient of a visit from a customer dissatisfied with a recent purchase which had lost its lustre.

The popular imagination was stirred and many fanciful and remarkable individual theories were advanced. One naturally thought how such things might easily happen in the neighborhood of some of the recent volcanic eruptions, and there were some who went about looking for holes in the ground.

Since the stir of talk about this phenomenon more than one citizen has claimed to have noticed reports in the papers of similar occurrences at St. Louis and other cities some time past. One lady who visited Earlington this week said she remembered when, within the past few years, there was a like happening in her town.

If this had occurred in 1890, would it have been taken as a prophecy of the triumph of "free silver" or an indication of a "farther fall in the value of that metal?"

Yesterday morning early a like condition existed and new deposits of metallic lustre were found to exist, in wet spots especially. A heavy fog prevailed which veiled everything and struck early pedestrians in the face like a fine drizzling rain. The fog was charged with smoke as before, and the products of combustion of coal. So dense was the fog that an early passenger train could not be seen by people living on South Railroad street.

MR. AND MRS. M. SEARGEANT

Entertain a Party of Young People at Their Home Thursday Evening.

A pretty party was given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. M. Seargeant at their home on East Main, in compliment to their little guests, Misses Lillian Tupman and Esther Raab, of Evansville, and Edna Peck, of Ashley, Ind.

The lawn was artistically illuminated with Japanese lanterns of different designs and the attractive home decorated with flowers and ferns, and as the dainty white figures fitted in and out it seemed like a peep into fairyland.

The hostess had planned a bean, candle and flower contest for their amusement which caused much pleasure and merriment. Roy Davis carried off the prize in the bean contest which was a sterling silver hat brush. Lawrence Turner was the winner of the candle contest and received a silver nail brush. There were several correct answers in the flower contest, the lucky ones drawing straws were, Miss Edna Peck first prize, a lovely fan, and George Arnold, second, a purse.

As the games concluded the twenty-five guests were invited to the dining room and seated at the table which was lovely in pink and white decorations, carnations and ferns. The dainty refreshments of pink and white ices, lemonade, cake and mints were more than relished by the happy little folks, and each guest was given a pink carnation by the girl visitors. As the wee small hours drew near good byes were reluctantly said to the genial host and charming hostess.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Fired on by Night Watchman They Escape Without Injury.

The postoffice at Blackford was broken into Tuesday night by a party of robbers who secured entrance through the front door. The night watchman passed the postoffice near midnight and saw two men standing in front of the door. He asked them what they were doing there and they replied "none of your business," he immediately fired on them and they returned it. After the watchman had emptied his pistol he ran to the depot a short distance away for help, pursued by the two men. When he returned with assistance the robbers had fled leaving their tools behind them. It is supposed there were several in the gang. The postmaster claims there is nothing missing.

NEWSY LETTER.

Items of Interest From Far-off Germany.

WRITTEN FOR THE BEE.

Wiesbaden, den, Aug. 11, 1906.
My dear friends,

This beautiful German city is the European Mecca for invalids and pleasure seeking people from all quarters of the globe. There are fourteen hot springs which furnish water to hundreds of bath houses.

Though only a short distance separates us from Newhausen where we stopped a couple of days to recuperate and view the beautiful Fall of the Rhine, there is a vast difference in the two places. Newhausen is a typical Swiss village, overlooked by hotel Schweitzerhof, built on the highest hill, facing that matchless Rhine Fall. It is of less magnitude than Niagara but from a point of beauty it cannot be excelled.

The art of man has done much to enhance the natural beauty of the falls. At 9:30 each evening the citizens illuminate the falls and the old German castle on the opposite side of the stream for the benefit of the visitors. When the illuminations are at its heights, the foaming waters look as though they were mists of illusions covering millions of incandescent lights of various hues. No words can describe the beauty of the view. Dangerous though it seems, parties are rowed direct to the rock covered with trees, ferns and moss, situated in the midst of the falls. It is from this rock that the illuminations are started.

By the way the old castle on the German side of the Rhine was built in the eleventh century. It is now used for a hotel and museum of curios and typical German and Swiss bric-a-brac, the most beautiful of which is hand carved ivory and wood. Strange to say within a few feet of this old castle you will find German families living in a fashion altogether their own. Their stables, dairy, laundry and living apartments are under the same roof, separated only by walls. While on this outing we passed a German wedding procession. The air was perfumed with the odor of orange blossoms.

Both evenings we spent at the Falls of the Rhine informal entertainments were arranged for us. An Italian band gave two daily concerts for our benefit, the tennis courts were placed at our disposal, the orchards were ours for the time being. In fact, the whole village had hospitality written across its brow.

The most beautiful walks imaginable lead in all directions from our hotel into the surrounding country. I felt quite at home when I found myself after some wandering, in a beautiful beech grove. They immediately reminded me of our Kentucky artists whose chief delight it is to paint the beech. Always there is something to remind us of dear old Kentucky. In several places where we have been guests of honor "Old Kentucky Home" invariably appears on the musical program.

Wiesbaden is the summer home of good music. While grand opera is now over, the parks and gardens are abounding with bands supported by the government. Yesterday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the German musical festival, and tonight we will hear in concert, the most celebrated singers of the festival.

Monday, August 13, 1906.

Tired of cathedrals, museums, drives, concerts, etc., Miss Craig, usually called "Mother," planned an old fashioned pound party to be given in her room for the amusement of her thirty-two children. Beds, tables, and clothes trees were made useful as well as ornamental. A midsummer Christmas tree was the center of attraction. After enjoying childhood games for a brief time speeches and original poems of a great variety brought peals of laughter that startled the guests in the adjoining room. In a very abrupt manner we were told by our hostess to depart. She turned out the lights and lit the candle. And so ended our first party. We are to have a farewell celebration in Antwerp just before we sail for dear old America.

Traveling with such tremendous velocity it is impossible to send postal cards to my friends who were my loyal supporters, but this letter I mean for a substitute. Thanking the good people of Earlington and THE BEE for its loyalty in assisting me to enjoy my present experience, I am, Most gratefully yours,

OLESTE KOSKUE.

MANSLAUGHTER

Is the Verdict Brought in Against Cash for Killing Chambliss.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Ernest Cash for killing Sam Chambliss, the grand jury returned a verdict of manslaughter. The trial was expected to come up at the special term of court now in session but on account of various delays it was found impossible to get to it and the case was continued until the regular September term. The bond of $1000 was also continued.

Fatally Injured by Diving.

Jas. A. Young, Jr., a prominent young man of Hopkinsville, was fatally injured Sunday while diving in Little River, in Christian county, by striking his head on a stone which fractured his skull and ruptured a blood vessel, causing death a few hours later. Mr. Young was visiting a camping party of young people when the accident happened. He was twenty-seven years old, assistant cashier of city bank and secretary of the Hopkinsville Gas and Electric company and son of Dr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Young.

COMPANY G RETURNS

From Most Instructive Encampment Ever Held by State Guard.

MADE CREDITABLE RECORD.

The officers and men of Company G returned early this morning from their annual encampment of eight days duration. This encampment was one of the most enjoyable and profitable that the local company and the Third Regiment has ever attended. Ten non-commissioned officers of the First Regiment were left at Henderson by command of Gov. Beckham to instruct the various companies composing the Third Regiment and the boys returned home with a better knowledge of military imparted by these officers and Capt. Brewster, of the United States Army, instructor at the camp.

Gov. Beckham reviewed the Third Regiment in the presence of several thousand spectators who applauded throughout the review. The Third Regiment band, the leading military band of the South, played at a ball given in honor of Gov. Beckham last evening.

Company G went to the rifle range Monday morning. Although the company did not come up to expectations at target practice, yet some members made creditable scores, and those were: Artificer Chas. Stokes and Private Herbert Smothers, 97 each out of a possible 150; Private Ernest Brinkley, 88; Sgt. Reuben Miles, 87; Privates Robert Jordan, 85; Wm. Lamb, 77; T. J. Stokes, 71 and Ross Cardwell, 71. Private Lon Johnson, Company F, Central City, made 112 out of a possible 150, thereby gaining the distinction of being the best marksman in the Third and First Regiments. Private Butler, Company E, Madisonville, ranks second with 107. These are the total scores shooting at the 200, 300 and 500 yard ranges.

Brigadier General Roger Williams inspected the quarters of the regiment Sunday morning. He found everything in first class condition. The local company passed the most perfect inspection of any company at the encampment.

Services were conducted at Camp Sunday by Chaplain Thomas, of Owensboro. A sacred concert was given by the Third Regiment band in connection with these services.

The companies were drilled in shelter tent practice on Friday. Company G was the first to get their tent into position and Capt. Brewster complimented them very highly on their quickness and thoroughness.

Private Dick Hankins, who was detained at home by illness went to Henderson Thursday and joined the company. Private Thomason only remained until Saturday being called home by the illness of his child.

Capt. Frank D. Rash, adjutant of the regiment, performed his duties in this responsible position like a veteran. This was his first time as adjutant, having been appointed recently. Sergeant-Major Brick Southworth and Regimental Commissary Sergeant Henry Jones were kept busy and gave satisfaction to all.

Only one member of Company G required medical attention at the regimental hospital and his case was not serious.

The regiment struck tents last evening at 10 o'clock and the tented city at Henderson as far as the Third Regiment is concerned is a thing of the past. The Second Regiment follows the deserted regiment for an eight days' encampment after which the annual camp of instruction of the State Guards for the year will be over.

The members of Company G arrived at home tired and weary but with pride over the record made by them and pleasant memories of their stay at the city on the Ohio.

The routine of the Third Regiment during encampment was contained in the following order issued on the first day of their arrival:

The chairman so selected becomes a member of the Executive Board.

INJUNCTION WILL KEEP MADISONVILLE LIGHTS BRIGHT

Court Says They are a Public Necessity and Must Not be Put Out.

A permanent injunction was granted Tuesday by Circuit Judge J. P. Gordon, at Madisonville, restraining the city of Madisonville and the Bailey Light & Water Co., from cutting off the electric lights and to the public houses that are now supplied with such lights. The court took the view that the lights were a public necessity, that the authorities had by their action during some years past acknowledged that they were a necessity and that they were as much a necessity now as they ever had been; that the authorities by their proposed action in establishing a municipal lighting plant, and further acknowledgment of the necessity of lights for the welfare of the town and its citizens. Based upon this decision the town will continue to be lighted under the old arrangement until the new municipal plant shall be erected and put in operation.

A Correction.

On the front page of this issue of The Bee it is mentioned that Gov. Beckham reviewed the Third Regiment at Henderson yesterday. The Governor intended to review the Third as he does the other two regiments but was detained and could not arrive in time to review the Third Regiment before they broke camp.

Miss Mary Agnes Salmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Salmon, of Hays, Ky., is ill of typhoid fever at St. Anthony's Hospital, Louisville, under the care of the best physicians of that city. Mr. Salmon had been East for some time, with his family, and it was at Atlantic City that Miss Salmon was found to have some fever with typhoid symptoms. It was decided at once to bring her to Louisville. The family reached that city Friday afternoon last and were met by Dr. Rash, of Owensboro, who had been telegraphed for, and Miss Salmon was at once taken to the hospital.

Rev. J. B. Adams, of Madisonville, will preach at the M. E. Church, South, Sunday morning and evening.

It is threatened in London that the return of the wasp waist for women is inevitable. It is remarked again that "fashion's decrees must be obeyed." But "a well known corsetiere" offers an argument that may win. She advises her customers against tight lacing because she says "it ruins the figure and shortens the life—of the best corset that can be made." She also declares a greater and more patent truth that "it is a mistake to imagine that a man is pleased with a tiny waist."

CATHOLIC FESTIVAL

Was Great Success and Well Patronized—
Nice Sum Realized.

The festival given by the members of the Catholic church at Lakeside Park last Thursday was a grand success, both financially and in attendance. Over $500 was realized outside of expenses which were slight. A large crowd was there and more than six hundred dinners were served by the ladies, the tables being spread under the pavilion and a more bountiful lot of good edibles was never seen here. A number of nice cakes and hams were left over which were easily disposed of. The fish pond which was the chief attraction contained 408 attractive fancy articles which were soon disposed of at 10 cents a fish. The ice cream and cake stand was well patronized $300 being realized. In the drawing contest the fortunate ones were, handsome center table, donated by O'Brien & Slaton, Madisonville, Mrs. Douglas, Madisonville, oak rocker donated by Morton & Hall, Miss Hattie Brown; bust of Napoleon, donated by J. R. Rash, Mrs. Fred Hosse; drawn work table cover, made by Miss Morgan, drawn by Mrs. Walter McGary; the large cake made and donated by Mr. Long, Mrs. Colbert; the doll donated by Mrs. and Miss Turner was drawn by Henry Rogers; the silver ware donated by W. G. Barter was drawn by Dee Henry. Among the amusements the chase after the greased pig caused the most fun and the prize was won by Skutter Hosse. The members and well pleased with the success of the affair and the proceeds go to building necessary additions to the Sisters' home.

MASONS MEET

Evangelistic Meetings.

On Sunday, September 9th the Christian church begins a series of Evangelistic meetings. Elder J. M. Rash, of Winchester, has been engaged as evangelist. Mr. Rash is a kinsman of our townsman, James R. Rash, and comes well recommended as an evangelist who has attained success in his calling.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Speaker Cannon Not Afraid.

Speaker Cannon intends to give positive evidence of his fearlessness of organized labor this fall by making no contest whatever for re-election in his district, the eighteenth Illinois. So confident of reelection is he that he intends to devote all his time during the congressional campaign in the districts of other Republicans who are certain to have a hard time retaining their seats in the House. The speaker will spend nearly two months on the stump, and it is expected will be of material assistance to many of "his boys" who are in trouble this year. President Gompers has put "Uncle Joe" on his blacklist, but that fact does not seem to be worrying the speaker the least. Mr. Cannon intends to point out what he considers the fallacies of Gompers' attitude toward himself and other Republicans who have incurred the animosity of the federation. The speaker is on the federation's blacklist because he used his influence in the House in preventing the passage of the anti-injunction bill and a more stringent eight-hour law as applied to work on government contracts, pet measures of Mr. Gompers.

Uncle Joe's Boom Started.

Citizens of twenty-five states residing at Washington, D. C., held a meeting last Thursday night to organize the "Uncle Joe Cannon presidential boom." Thousands of Cannon buttons have been ordered for distribution. They bear his picture and words attributed to the president, namely, "Mr. Speaker, you will be the next president."

On Tuesday of last week the Illinois Republican convention nominated minor state candidates and endorsed Speaker Cannon for the presidency.

For Roosevelt and Bryan.

The unusual spectacle of a Democratic convention frankly endorsing both Roosevelt and Bryan, the former for his fights on trusts and the latter as the next presidential candidate, was presented by the convention of the Twelfth Ohio congressional district last week.

A call has been issued by District Chairman Will P. Scott, for a meeting of the Republican Committee of the Second Congressional district to meet at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, September 5th, at the New Huntington Hotel. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the manner in which to select a candidate for Congress from this district.

Notwithstanding President Roosevelt's sudden conversion to the spelling "reform," it is thought the platforms of both political parties will be spelled in the usual way.—Chicago Tribune.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to return heartfelt thanks to each and every one who was so kind to us through the illness and death of our darling little babe that was given to us for so short a time. They will ever be remembered by us. Respectfully,

MR. AND MRS. E. W. KENFRO.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poison which comes from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little box of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for toxic alterative and rebuilding agents. The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to its use either at unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one. The fact puts it in a class all by itself, being the only medicine in the world that is sold in a glass bottle wrapper. The Bazaar of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, irritation of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections so to speak, and the organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the cures ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equalled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. Due to three a dose.

WILD WITH ITCHING HUMOR

Eruption Broke Out in Spots All Over Body—Caused a Continual Itching for Two Years—Doctor's Medicine Did no Good—Cured at Expense of only $1.25 and Now

THANKS CUTICURA FOR COMPLETE CURE

"Some time ago I wrote you for a book on the Cuticura Remedies and received it O. K. and went and bought the Soap, Ointment, and Pills. They did me more good than any medicine I ever used. They cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your name, I sent to you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment, and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. If you wish, you may publish this. Your friend forever, Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. D. 2, Walnut, Kan., June 15, 1905."

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

SCRATCH! SCRATCH! SCRATCH! This is the condition of thousands of skin-tormented men, women, and children, who may be instantly relieved and speedily cured by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, when physicians and all else fail.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, 25c. Ointment, 25c. Resolvent Pills, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 40), may be had of all druggists. A Single and other sizes. Price 10c. and 25c. each. Sold by Mail Free. "All About the Skin, Scalp, and Hair."

Change the Spelling Books.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Spelling reform has gained a conspicuous friend. President Roosevelt has pronounced in favor of it. He has given orders to the public printer that hereafter in all White House documents the recommendations of the spelling reform committee shall be followed. The president's messages are long, and the output of other White House literature is large. The government printing office will turn out innumerable sheets in which "through" and "though" will appear docked of their fair dimensions.

There are many words on which the reformers have laid their marring, or mending, hands, which the president will not be likely to use in addressing congress. Presidents do not use in their state papers such words as "gaal," "hiccup," and "wink." So, even if the newspapers shall print the president's messages just as they come from the public printer, and the people shall read them with unusual care, they will observe only a few of the innovations of the spelling reform committee.

Most newspapers may refuse to follow copy in printing the president's next message. Heads of executive departments may feel that courtesy requires them to follow his lead, though they may repudiate in private a reform which they adopt in public. It is better for a subordinate to show a conforming disposition in all things. Printers and proof readers are usually conservatives. They dislike to undertake what they have learned with much trouble. They have more respect for "the style of the office" than for the mandate of a president. They have grown respect for President Roosevelt as a statesman, soldier and sportsman, but when it comes to spelling they think they know more than he does.

The spelling reformers cannot make much headway by converting a president, Congress or a Supreme court. Each of them has much power in his or its way, but none of them has jurisdiction over spelling in this free land. Perhaps the next democratic state convention will sternly denounce President Roosevelt for attempting to tell the people how they shall spell. Mr. Bryan may have something to say on the subject.

For certain purposes the hand that writes the American spelling book is more powerful than the hand that signs a railroad rate bill. Changes made in the spelling book will stamp a new spelling upon the rising generation, and that which now looks odd to the great majority will be in universal use thirty years hence. The reformers should inveigle the spelling book men into their camp.

Topographic Surveys in Kentucky.

Dr. J. C. Newland, the Director of the State Geological Survey of Kentucky, has appropriated toward ocean-tative topographic work with the Federal Survey the sum of $10,000 of the funds provided by the last Legislature toward the maintenance of the State Geological Survey. The interests of the State in this work will be in his hands. Mr. C. D. Wakeat, the Director of the United States Geological Survey, has set aside for these Kentucky surveys an equal amount from the Government appropriations.

These topographic surveys will cover portions of Wayne, Russell, Pulaski, McLean, Ohio, Muhlenberg, Union, Crittenden, Caldwell, Hopkins, Webster, Leslie, Perry, Knott, Wood, Fayette, Scott, Franklin, Henry, Owen, Spencer and Washington counties.

A party of which Mr. W. N. Merrill has charge, assisted by Mr. A. O. Burkland and a number of temporary employees, will complete the mapping of an atlas sheet covering an area of about 250 square miles in the vicinity of Monticello. Some preliminary work of road surveying will also be extended and levels in the neighborhood of Burnside will be run. A second party directed by Mr. R. W. Berry who is assisted by Messrs. W. H. Salton, E. K. Keenan, R. P. Thompson, E. E. Jarrett, A. C. Wood, G. A. Perry, T. J. Dyer and others will map atlas sheets covering about 25 square miles each in the vicinity of Morgantown and Clay. A third party led by Mr. L. Reier, Smith, who is assisted by Messrs. J. D. Wynn, D. E. Clanton, P. H. West, J. O. Salton, P. P. Hoyle, O. B. Howard, A. J. Randle, and G. W. Green, Jr. has completed the mapping of an atlas sheet covering an area in the neighborhood of Georgetown and Lexington, and is now engaged in mapping a similar area about Lockport. Later on another party will take the field on similar surveys, doing preliminary work toward final topographic mapping of all areas which covers an area about 150 square miles in the neighborhood of Hazard. Some members of this party will do preliminary mapping later in the season of atlas sheets covering areas about Central City and Clermont.

A party will be engaged in running primary traverse to control future topographic mapping to some of the above mentioned counties. Mr. J. R. Ellis will extend primary traverse over three quadrangles in Wayne and Bullitt counties, also over two others in portions of McLean, Ohio, Caldwell, Crittenden and Hopkins counties. Mr. E. L. McNair will have charge of a party which will extend primary traverse for the control of future topographic mapping over an area of about 120 square miles in Knott, Perry, Pike and Bracken counties. A party under Mr. C. H. Semper will run precise levels which are connected with the line brought through from the main sea level to Louisville and Lexington. This line of precise levels will be run from Lexington to Jackson and probably eastward for about 100 miles.

It is believed that the maps resulting from these surveys, will be very helpful to all engaged in engineering projects.

Alabama Miners Give Up.

The result of the Alabama referendum vote ordered by President Mitchell for the union miners in Alabama is the decision to call off their strike on the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and other coal companies which have agreed to progress for over two years. This means that the men will return to work although the mine concerted have been placed on the open-shop basis. The strike involves 6,000 workers and cost the national organization $1,000,000.

Died of Dropsy.

Vernon Baldwin died this morning about 2 o'clock. He had been in bad health because of this disease for several months, and the end has been expected for several days. He was 80 years of age and leaves a wife and three children. Interment at Rose Creek. The funeral party will leave Earlington at 10 tomorrow morning and burial will take place at 11. He was a brother of the late J. W. Baldwin, the notice of whose death appears elsewhere in this issue.

SPREADS NEW GOSPEL

ECCENTRIC IOWAN SEEKING GOVERNOR'S TOGA.

Andrew T. Hisey, of Tama, Making Campaign on "Secular" Government Platform—Tramping State Pushing the Wheelbarrow.

Eldora.—Andrew Townsend Hisey, independent candidate for governor has started his campaign with a wheelbarrow, a load of tracts and a platform of optimism and favored social and political economies. He is tramping from city to town, pushing the wheelbarrow full of campaign literature and scattering the sunshine of his philosophy of brotherly love and weird politics wherever he can draw a crowd. Thus far he has never lacked audiences.

Hisey is the apostle of a new system of political economy. Early this summer he thought it into a state of perfection, and in its completed form calls it "Secular Government." It partakes of exploration and investigation, of evolution and eternal justice. Public ownership is unobscured, competition is prescribed for labor and a kind word is spoken for the trust. One plank of its novel platform touches on individual morals and depicts a metamorphosis from vice to virtue. It vows that each person live on the interest of money.

The new political economy is outlined by Hisey as follows: "Secular government stands for good government; liberal scientific government; individual, national, international administration and distribution of justice."

"Platform of secular government:

"1. To redress the arts which are lost, and reveal those which are hidden."

"2. To complete the unfinished work of ages, right the wrongs of generations past, correct the mistakes, rectify the errors, and see to it with great care that the ill which affect the race, the foul works and foul plays do not recur."

"3. To secure individual ownership, preserve competition in labor, complete the wage-earning system, give to labor its full share of prosperity, bring to trusts, combinations and gigantic concerns the confidence of an industrious people and intense patriotism to the government."

"4. To surmount deplorable tendencies, lift up the fallen, strengthen the weak, connect the broken family chain, double the measures, deepen and lengthen the lives of the people, and elevate all on the high table land of political science, above poverty, crime, ignorance and superstition. Change the environments from positive vices to positive virtues, from negative vices to positive virtues, from negative virtues to great good, great care and great hope, so one's words, works, thoughts and actions may go on into the world to do good and always be in the world."

"5. Bring to each person in the generation each day of their lives the little heritage which has been directed by thoughtful persons for ages and make each person live on the interest of money."

"Voicing these principles, Andrew Townsend Hisey pushes his little wheelbarrow over the state of Iowa. With pathetic anxiety to get his principles before the people he works day and night for fear that some misguided ones may vote for some other candidate before the great light of "secular" government has broken athwart their horizon."

The requisite number of signatures to have Mr. Hisey's name placed on the fall ballot have been secured, and the aspirant will be before the public until election day. He has lived in Iowa for more than half a century, having been brought to Tama from his birthplace, Brunswick, Pa., in 1855. He was then two years old. Hitherto, when not doing odd jobs for his neighbors, he has spent his time in study, evolving this as a government plan.

In Tama, his home, and Tama county, beside the big Muskegon Indian reservation. Mr. Hisey is a noted character, and is considered a genius. This is his first plunge into the broader field of state activity.

WILL WED RICHEST GIRL.

Young German Diplomat, Herr Von Bohlen Halbach, Is Lucky Suitor for Hand of Bertha Krupp.

Berlin.—Herr Gustav von Bohlen and Halbach may certainly claim to be the luckiest man in the world since he has won the richest prize in the matrimonial market to be found in the two hemispheres. The announcement of his engagement to Fraulein Bertha Krupp, the elder daughter of the cannon king of Essen, has caused many of the bachelor aristocrats of Germany to turn green with envy.

Gustav von Bohlen and Halbach is something of an aristocrat himself, as is implied by his mouthful of a name, but nobody ever spotted him as the man most likely to capture the wealthiest heiress in the world. As a student at Freiburg he was distinguished more by his dapper escapades than by his devotion to learning, but years ago he finished sowing his crop of wild oats and settled down, if not exactly to the simple life, to one that gave no cause for gossip.

He is now 36 years old, and is councillor of the Prussian legation accredited to the Vatican. It is not a post of much prominence, which will make it all the easier for him to abandon a diplomatic career in which there is no evidence that he would ever have achieved distinction. He will have to give it up to carry out the wish expressed by Herr Krupp before his death that his daughter's future husband should in due course undertake the management of the family business. That is such a colossal business that if he really lacks the job seriously he will have to work considerably harder than most men find it necessary to earn a livelihood.

Miss Krupp will attain her majority next year. Under Herr Krupp's will, the younger daughter is to receive her portion in cash when she comes of age, while Bertha inherits the business. This makes her sole proprietress of the vast Krupp works, which employs 40,000 men, and practically mistress, too, of the town of Essen, with its 250,000 inhabitants. The reserve fund of the Essen works, according to a balance sheet recently published, amounts to nearly $20,000,000, and Miss Krupp's net income from the Essen business last year exceeded $2,000,000. With what she receives in addition from supplementary revenues her total annual income foots up approximately to $5,000,000.

FOR MILLIONS

DOORS OF THE PHILADELPHIA
REAL ESTATE TRUST
CO. CLOSED.

WAS REGARDED STRONG

Frank K. Hippie, Its President, Responsible For the Failure
May Have Died a Suicide.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

FUNDS OF THE GENERAL AS-SEMBLY ARE TIED UP.

The Dead President Was Treasurer, and Had In His Charge
Almost a Million.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—The Real Estate Trust Co., holds nearly a million dollars of the funds of the Presbyterian church, $300,000 of the funds of the city of Philadelphia and $750,000 of state funds.

Liabilities $10,000,000.
Quick assets $5,000,000.
Doubtful $9,000,000.
Persistent rumors that President Hippie committed suicide were borne out when it was authoritatively stated that he took his life at his home last Friday morning, taking his usual bath with water, and later was found apparently drowned.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—Unable to meet its obligations because of the large amount of money loaned on insufficient security by its president, now dead, the Real Estate Trust Co., of Philadelphia, which up to last Saturday was considered one of the strongest financial institutions in the city, has closed its doors.

Soon after George H. Earle, Jr., a prominent financier, was appointed receiver.

Liabilities and Assets.
The liabilities of the company are placed at $10,000,000, against which there are quick assets of about $5,000,000, and collateral of about $9,000,000, which is not negotiable or readily convertible. This doubtful collateral is held mostly as security for loans of about $5,000,000, made to Adolf Segal, a promoter of this city.

The Man Responsible.
The man responsible for the failure was Frank K. Hippie, one of Philadelphia's best-known citizens, who died suddenly last Friday morning in his country home at Bryn Mawr, near here, under circumstances which, in the light of developments, lead to the suspicion that he may have committed suicide.

Presbyterian Church May Suffer Loss.
Mr. Hippie, president of the Real Estate Trust Co., was the treasurer of the board of trustees of General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, and of several other church funds, and was a director of the Franklin national bank. According to last May's minutes of the Presbyterian general assembly, Mr. Hippie was treasurer of the board of trustees, and has in his charge funds amounting to $363,896.

The Segal Loans.
For the loans to Adolf Segal, Hippie accepted as collateral securities of the Majestic hotel, a big new apartment house operated by Segal; the Swedish Steel Co., of Lancaster, Pa., and the Pennsylvania sugar refining Co., of this city. The steel company and the sugar refining concern have never been placed in operation. Segal claims the collateral he gave is good, and that he will meet all his obligations.

There are others to whom Hippie loaned money on insufficient security, but their names have not been made public, and the sums are not believed to be large.

Was He the Tool of Others?
How far Hippie benefited in the loans made, or whether he was merely the tool of others, is not yet to be determined. All the directors are remaining silent on that point, and so the question whether there will be any criminal proceedings.

Falsified His Reports.
In order to hide the true condition of the company, and also to save himself, Hippie resorted to the falsification of his reports, which were accepted as true by the directors. He used what the receiver termed a "double system" in making reports.

How He Fooled Them.
When the state bank examiner called, Hippie presented to him good securities to offer, the loans were made, and when the president made his reports to the directors, he would show them a bundle of other securities and other paper, and along with these he would exhibit the certificate of the bank examiner, which showed that the accounts the examiner had investigated were correct.

The Board Shocked.
As soon as the directors heard of the sudden death of President Hippie they began an investigation of his affairs, and were shocked when they learned the true condition of the company. This was after the close of business on Friday. A meeting of the board was hurriedly called, and every effort made to tide the bank over. City bank president assembled at the clearinghouse, but when told that $7,000,000 would be required to put the institution on its feet, they declined, and the crash came.

Ability to Pay Uncertain.
The application for the receiver says the company had a paid-up capital of $1,000,000, an apparent surplus of an equal amount, and deposits of about $10,000,000. The assets consist of real estate in Philadelphia, loans on collateral on demand, and on time and other securities. Receiver Earl said: "I said that the depositors will not be too discouraged and anxious about their situation."

THROWING UP EARTHWORKS.

Preparing the Defenses of Pinar Del Rio, Cuba.

Havana, Aug. 23.—The construction of earthworks for the defense of the city of Pinar del Rio is being pushed. It is stated there that a considerable number of insurgents have deserted and gone to their homes, assuming that they were deceived by those who induced them to join the revolt.

There have been some disturbances and shootings at night at towns on the western railroad.

NEW NATURALIZATION LAW.

Its Regulations Will Be In Effect After September 27.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Acting Secretary Lawrence O. Murray, of the department of justice, has issued the regulations relating to the enforcement of the recently enacted naturalization laws. The work of the naturalization division will begin September 27, after which the regulations will be effective in all parts of the country.

SECY TAFT GOT THE FIRST LETTER

WM. R. HEARST ON JEROME AND BRYAN

New York, Aug. 23.—William Randolph Hearst said, in the course of an interview, that he will not be a candidate for governor at the next election on the democratic ticket.

Mr. Hearst was asked: "Would you accept the nomination of the democrats to run for governor?" Mr. Hearst replied:

"No, I shall run only as the nominee of the independence league. I have said that before, and I wish to emphasize it. Of course I should be glad of all the democratic votes that I could get."

"What do you think of the candidacy of Mr. Jerome for the office of governor of New York?" he was asked. "It seems to me that Mr. Jerome's course shows plainly that he is more anxious to satisfy the bosses than he is to serve the people. I think his candidacy is insincere as well as somewhat foolish."

"Is there any truth in the report," Mr. Hearst, "that there is a coolness between you and Mr. Bryan, because of the fact that you may be a presidential candidate in 1908?" Mr. Hearst laughed.

"Not the slightest," he said.

Fire One Spindle Top.
Beaumont, Tex., Aug. 23.—Fire, which started by a boiler explosion on the southwestern end of the tract leased by the Sunset Oil Co., on Spindle Top, swept over six acres of the field. As near as can be estimated the damage will not exceed $50,000.

Will Not Prosecute.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23.—Prosecuting Attorney I. B. Kimbrell has announced that he has decided to drop the proposed prosecution of the members of the Kansas City board of trade for alleged violation of the anti-trust law. He says the board is exempt.

Basta For the Missouri.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23.—Lawrence M. Jones, president of the Missouri Valley River Improvement association, telegraphed Mr. Leavelle that he has resigned offices on both to be put on the Missouri river by the Kansas City and St. Louis.

A MANY-SIDED KING

LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM MOST VERSATILE OF MONARCHS.

How He Turned Laugh on an Architect of Note—La Fonde of Hunting and Climbs Alps Each Summer in Search of the Chamois.

Brussels, Belgium.—Leopold II, king of the Belgians and sovereign of the Congo Free State, may well claim to be the most versatile of continental crowned heads. There was a time when this evaluation was particularly attributed to Emperor William, but the Kaiser must now "take a back seat."

The "yankee of monarchs," as the Belgians have affectionately nicknamed their ruler, is, above all, a modern captain of industry. His daring speculations fully entitle him to the honors by which he is familiarly known to his subjects. His versatility has a trans-Alpine flavor, for the Kaiser has won in such varied fields of human activity as finance, diplomacy, literature, art and sport appear more in the line of an American millionaire than of a European monarch.

Later the king seems to have been intent on proving that he might have acquired reputation as an architect had he been of humbler birth. He has succeeded in making Brussels one of the most beautiful architectural centers of continental capitals.

What Baron Haussmann did for Paris under the second empire Leopold II. has planned for Brussels. He has designed some of the most artistic public buildings recently erected in Europe, such as the new national bank, the lovely Flemish theater (gem of its kind) and the new royal palace of Brussels. This place, of the purest classic style, is now nearing completion and promises to be one of the most sumptuous and aesthetic abodes on the continent.

The plans for a new town hall in Brussels submitted to the king for his approval. He carefully examined the drawings in every detail as his own. To a superficial observer the seemed beyond criticism, from the artistic facade of the most approved Flemish renaissance style to the well-proportioned interior. After inspecting the plans he sent for the architect, and said:

LEOPOLD II OF BELGIUM.
("Yankee of Monarchs," Is a Modern Captain of Industry.)

"Monsieur," he said, "your town hall promises to be a most artistic building, well worthy to figure among the architectural masterpieces of Belgium, but there is a slight omission in your design and one from which, I fear, the town officials may have cause to suffer, in winter at least. You have forgotten the chimneys in the roof."

The absent-minded architect, thinking it too good to keep, told the story himself.

King Leopold is a keen sportsman and a capital shot. His favorite sport is chamois hunting and notwithstanding his 71 years he still scales the Alps on his annual summer vacation in search of the chamois with all the agility of a Tyrolean mountain guide.

The press has revealed to its readers from time to time that some sovereigns work harder than their subjects. Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph being notable examples of the strenuous life on a throne.

King Leopold, who is supposed outside of his realm to be a gliding seeker after pleasure or a persecutor of his Congo subjects, is perhaps the busiest man in Belgium. He has profound contempt for idleness, is never at rest and works like a Trojan.

At Laeken, his customary residence, he gets up at five o'clock in summer, and half an hour later in winter. Immediately after dressing he takes a brisk walk in the palace gardens. By seven o'clock he is at his desk examining his mail, which is brought from Brussels by automobile.

He breakfasts at eight o'clock, then goes back to his office and works until 11, when he takes a ride before luncheon. Early in the afternoon he drives to the Brussels palace, where the audiences begin at one o'clock, and, as a rule, last until three. He returns to Laeken for five o'clock tea, and later devotes himself to affairs of state.

OLD OVERLAND STAGE

COACH WHICH CARRIED PEOPLE ACROSS ARIZONA PLAINS.

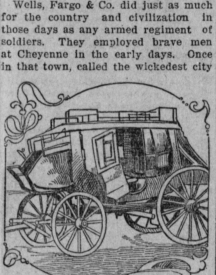

Eloquent Reminder of Pioneer Days in the West—Was Held Up by Robbers and Indians Nearly 200 Times.

New York.—The accompanying illustration shows an old-fashioned stage coach of the Buffalo Bill variety. It formerly belonged to the Wells-Fargo Overland Stage company, which made wonderful trips across the plains, drawing up in front of the principal hotel of each town stuck full of arrows and bullets from redskins and stage robbers lying in wait along the route. Talk of heroes and those romances of Balaklava days! They are not in it with the "gents" of the plains, who never showed fear. While being snatched, skinned alive or filled full of holes for their money they would "pass in their chips" with smiles on their faces.

The particular stage in the illustration is one of the old Wells-Fargo vehicles which ran between Phoenix, Maricopa county, and Prescott, Yavapai county, Ariz.

Of all the stages on the southern line, this particular vehicle, because distinguished because it had been held up by Arizona stage robbers and Indians 125 times in the course of its 20 years' service. It is a well made, honest stage, that can withstand nearly ten "hold ups" a year for 20 years. It is said that so much Arizona "pizen" was spilled by travelers in the vehicle that the coaches became thoroughly seasoned and nothing short of giant powder could form them.

Drivers and guards were always armed—armed to the teeth, they called it, with an extra gun or two in each boot and a bowie knife in the belt. Having "round ups" with train robbers was part of the weekly business, and the first thing the "helpers" did while the horses were changing at relay stations was to pull out arrows and disgorge bullets as any armed regiment of soldiers. They employed brave men at Cheyenne in the early days. Once in that town, called the wickedest city on earth—and it had 6,000 desperadoes and a thousand or two red-headed women from Australia, who could dance 18 hours without fainting—word went around that the worst gang in Wyoming was going to attack the treasure to arrive that night. It was a rich cargo of gold dust and coin that the express company was hurrying across the plains.

The manager wasn't frightened a bit. He put the treasure in a room, a house made of timbers, almost airtight, and pierced with holes on every side, just large enough for a man to sight his gun through. Twenty men, each with a sawed-off gun and snare keg of slugs and powder were piled in on top of the treasure and the men told to shoot everything in sight.

The plan in front of the hotel was cleared, and about two o'clock next morning the attack opened and the defenders began pumping lead into the invaders.

For a few minutes there was a continuous roar of rifles and shotguns. The air was mixed with fire, slugs and old nails. The boys won a great victory for the express company and it was nearly a week before they began hanging thieves again to the telegraph poles along the principal streets of the town. All the remaining thieves had been killed. The Methodist preacher who presided there said he never had so flourishing a congregation and so easy a time as when he saw a new man swinging from a rope every day he went down-town to get his mail.

The old stage coach shown in the picture is an eloquent reminder of those wonderful days of the pony express and stage coach when half the world was "hooding" it across the plains.

New Use for Electricity.

A simple electrical means of purifying water for home use has been devised by a French engineer. The apparatus takes up very little space. It consists of a small closed box, which contains an ozone developer, an interrupter, and a tin tube. Connection is made with an ordinary lighting circuit by fitting a plug into an incandescent socket, and when current is turned on ozone is generated. This passes through the tube into a cotton stopper, to free it from the dust and germs contained in the air, and is then conducted into the water to be purified. The "ozonizer" is a most important feature of the apparatus. Sixty gallons of water can thus be purified in an hour, at the cost of ordinary lighting.

SOUTHWEST

The Land of BIG CROPS and PROSPERITY

Are you making as much off your farm as you ought? No doubt you are making all you can. The trouble is the land costs too much. It takes too much money to buy a big farm, and so you are trying to make a living on a small farm, or perhaps you are renting one and paying a good share of what you raise, in rent. Wouldn't it be better to go where the price of good land is so little that you can own a big farm—where every acre of the ground is working for you and all you raise is paying you good profit?

There are thousands of acres of fertile land in the Southwest along the line of the Cotton Belt Route that can be bought for from $3 to $10 an acre. This land is increasing in value each year.

See the Southwest at Small Cost
A trip to the Southwest would convince you that your best interests lay in settling there. The trip can be made at very little expense. On the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month you can purchase a round trip ticket to any point in the Southwest on or via the Cotton Belt Route at very low rates. Stop overs will be allowed for you to examine any locality you are interested in.

Write at once for free copies of books describing this wonderful country and for full information about cost of tickets, etc.

THE HORSE SHOW

Louisville Will Hold Forth at the New Armory in October.

GREATER EXHIBITION THAN EVER

The Kentucky Horse Show Society will hold its first annual exhibition in the Armory, at Sixth and Walnut streets at Louisville, the first week in October, the first to sixth inclusive.

The management of the Horse Show has been able to secure the Armory for four years through an arrangement with the Fiscal Court of Jefferson county, whereby the Kentucky Horse Show Society is to pay Col. W. B. Haldeman, commanding the First Regiment, the sum of $5,000 to be used in furnishing the Armory, which was turned over to the regiment in quite an incomplete condition, being deficient in equipment and the money thus received through these public spirited citizens will be used in beautifying the place and making it comfortable.

The personnel of the Kentucky Horse Show Society is practically the same as that of old Louisville Horse Show Association and the exhibitions to be conducted under its management will be of the same high standard, with some added features.

The following is a list of the officers: W. J. Hogan, President; S. P. Jones, First Vice President; W. B. Haldeman, Second Vice President; J. L. Smyser, Third Vice President; Bethel B. Veech, Secretary-Treasurer; H. L. Fox, Assistant Secretary.

The Armory is being especially prepared for the holding of the Horse Show. Seats and boxes will be placed in position, an additional floor is to be laid on which to build the ring, stalls and carriage sheds will be provided for any number of horses and vehicles that may have to be taken care of.

The railroads have made a special rate for several days prior and exceeding the Horse Show and every Kentuckian should take advantage of the opportunity to witness this great exhibition, which is a great credit to the Commonwealth.

CUBAN REVOLUTION

GOVERNMENT CLAIMS TO HAVE IT UNDER CONTROL.

REBELS TAKE THIRD TOWN

Rebels and Government Troops Are Fighting 45 Miles From Havana.

Havana, Aug. 24.—The government forces, led by Col. Estrampas, are fighting the rebels at Guines, 45 miles from Havana.

The battle is still in progress. The rebel band is supposed to be a part of the forces led by Bandera who was killed Thursday.

Claim Rebels Defeated.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Mr. Sleeper, the American charge at Havana, in a dispatch says that the government claims that Gen. Guerra was defeated in a three-hour battle near Finar de Rio.

Santiago and Puerto Principe provinces are reported by the government to be quiet. Mr. Sleeper ends his dispatch with the announcement that O'Farrell, the secretary of state and justice, has resigned.

Rebels Hold Three Towns.

Havana, Aug. 24.—The insurgents have captured their third town. While the government officials were busy issuing statements intended to assure the world that the insurrection is under control, the revolutionists, led by ex-Congressman Mendez, captured Rancho Vela, on the north coast.

At Salud a train loaded with horses for the government troops was held by the rebels and all the animals on board were driven away. Stores were sacked of arms and ammunition.

Gregorio Ferrera, who was the campaign secretary and manager of Jose Miguel Gomez, and who was with him in New York several months ago, after Gomez gave up his presidential campaign, was arrested in the city of Santa Clara, Friday, on the charge of conspiracy. Ferrera is suspected of trying to secure arms and ammunition in the United States for the use of insurgents.

Jose Miguel Gomez, who was a candidate for the presidency last fall, and who was arrested August 21, at his residence near Sancti Spiritus, Province of Santa Clara, arrived here from Santiago on a special train and had been escorted to the city jail before his arrival in this city because Rodriguez.

Havana, Aug. 23.—Gen. Rodriguez, commander of the rural guards, after relating the incidents of the day, said to a press correspondent:

"You can tell the American people that Cuba is entirely competent to cope with the insurrection. The flood of rumors in all directions about the organization of insurrectionary bands in great numbers are not borne out by the reports, and so far as can be learned by the facts. The results of the encounter at San Luis is still not known definitely, but it is known that we inflicted some losses on the enemy in that vicinity. The much-talked-of movement in Santa Clara province has not been encountered, and the insurrectionists have been seen there for forces."

"We have equipped and sent out in various directions 200 volunteers under competent officers. We have plenty of rifles and ammunition for all who enlist at present, and more has been ordered from the United States. Besides this we have thousands of old but serviceable guns. We believe the loyal people are taking up arms for the government, and faster than the insurgents are increasing."

Santa Clara Abaze.

While the foregoing is typical of the utterances of government officials, there are evidences of threatening increases in the numbers of the insurrectionists. In the province of Santa Clara the disaffection is widespread, and in the province of Havana a great many people are in sympathy with the insurgents. In some cases whole communities appear to have been carried away by the recurrence of insurrectionary times. The extent to which this will lead to open rebellion is still uncertain.

A Three Hours' Battle

A telegram to the government states that Maj. Maurel, with his detachment of rural guards, fought Guerra and his 600 men for three hours, completely defeating him and killing or wounding many insurgents.

Vice-President Mender Capote has returned to Havana, and had a conference over the situation with President Palma.

Cuban, Spanish, American, Canadian and German bankers have urged President Palma and offered him their assistance.

U. S. Stops Their Business.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Operations of the Tabasco-Chiquas Trading and Transportation Co. and the La Ma Ma Mills Co., Mexican investment concerns, with offices at 16-20 River street, have been stopped by the postal authorities. Henry D. Bushnell, president, and I. B. Miller, secretary and treasurer, were arrested and assigned before United States Commissioner Foote, who held them in bonds of $2,000 each, and continued the case until August 29.

Fifty Per Cent. on the Manchuria.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 23.—Fifty per cent. was paid Friday for insurance on the steamer Manchuria.

A JAPANESE LAWN PARTY

Given by Miss Anna Deal Bramwell at her Home Tuesday Evening.

A lovely social event was the lawn party of which Miss Anna Deal Bramwell was hostess Tuesday evening. The lawn, front and back of the pretty cottage on Farren avenue, was brightly illuminated with myriads of fantastic Japanese lanterns and electric lights which together with the soft rays of the moon presented an enchanting scene with the bevy of pretty girls and gallant boys, about thirty-five in number.

Frolic games were played on the back lawn and the shouts of laughter told of the keen enjoyment. Sweet music throughout the evening was played on the piano by Fred Rootz. The piano being on the back gallery.

Nectar was served on the back terrace, the table in a bed of ferns and over it wispended an immense Japanese umbrella with background of large fan of the same design.

At 9:30 the guests were seated and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake served, after which the games continued until it was time to say goodnight, which they reluctantly did, vowing they never had so much fun in their lives.

About twelve grown people were favored to be there and enjoyed a most pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. Bramwell and the children.
